Clark and wife, Bridgton; Wm. Fauce, Oxford; Jos. Gammon, Peru; Dana Grant, wife and son, Locke's Mills; Chas. Sanborn, Otisfield; Cyrus Wardwell, Oxford; Mark H. Sawyer and wife, Harrison.

Rumford Falls Music Festival.
The Rumford Falls Music Festival under the direction of Prof. Osbourne Conathy, of Kentucky, at Cheney Opera House will be three concerts, Monday evening, Aug. 24, at 8.15; Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 25, 2.30 and evening at 8.15. The "Boston Festival Orchestra" Club, 9 artists, has been secured as orchestra.

The chorus comprises fifty voices about evenly divided among the parts. The soloists are Clara Saxton of Boston, soprano; Mrs. Bertha Cushing Child, contralto; Clarence B. Shirley, tenor; Frederick Martin, basso; George B. Stephens, accompanist.

Hebron Defeats Welchville.
Hebron defeated Welchville at Welchville, Saturday.
Farrington pitched a good game for Welchville but lacked proper support behind the bat. Hebron's work was hardly up to the standard they have exhibited in the last games. Pike for Hebron made a nice running catch in the fifth. Score:

Hebron	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

Two-base hits—Staples. Batteries: Hebron—C. Flood, Moody, Chas. Flood; Welchville—E. Lovejoy, Farrington. First base on balls by Moody 2, by Chas. Flood 3, by Farrington 3. Struck out—by Moody 6, by Flood 7, by Farrington 8. Errors—Hebron 2, Welchville 11. Pass balls—C. Flood 4, Lovejoy 9.

OXFORD.

Among exorcences on rose bushes in this vicinity proves to be a gall filled with the larvae of the gall gnats. It has never been seen here before.

BETHEL.

A Fine Time.

Many Bethel people went to Albany Centennial, last Wednesday. A large and orderly crowd was present and everything passed off finely. It was estimated that twelve or fourteen hundred people had a free dinner, good enough for a king, and enough in reserve for many more. Bryant's Pond band was in attendance. Many sons and daughters of the town, now settled outside of its boundaries, returned on that occasion to greet their old friends and enjoy the occasion. The day seemed to be placed for the occasion, though the roads were a little muddy from the previous day's rain.

Many haymakers are still busy at their work.

Mrs. Frank Williamson went to the hospital last Saturday.

Carry Hastings is at home from Washington, D. C., for a short vacation.

One villager's milk cans were kerosene in the tank one night last week by some miscreant.

Rhith James returned to Lancaster, Mass., Tuesday, after spending a short vacation at her old home.

Fred Gorman has returned from the hospital, where he submitted to a successful operation for appendicitis.

John Dyer, former assistant principal of Gould Academy, is spending a few days in town. He has a fine situation in a boys' fitting school at West Bethlehem near Philadelphia.

"A pair of twin girl babies" is the late report from Dr. Norman Gehring's household, Portland. The happy young mother is the daughter of G. R. Wiley, esq., of this village.

The Universalist annual fair and supper, Tuesday evening, was a success. Nearly all the articles on sale were disposed of and the supper tables fully patronized.

Rev. Selden Gould, wife and two children of Skowhegan went through this place, Monday, on their return home from the Albany Centennial, of which town Mrs. G. was a native. Mr. Gould will be remembered as having been located at West Bethel some twenty-seven years ago.

The new dancing pavilion at South Bethel is being well patronized.

Mrs. Frank Flint is spending a few days with relatives in Portland.

Robert Chapman of Portland was in this village last week on business.

Mrs. Caleb Fuller of West Paris visited relatives in this place last week.

Arthur Douglass has been helping H. M. Farwell in haying the past two weeks.

Dr. J. A. Morton, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks, is gaining slowly.

Amos King has moved from Locke's Mills into C. C. Bryant's rent and is working for the Bethel Manufacturing Company.

Mrs. H. A. Day and two children, who have been visiting her brother, Frank Flint, returned to their home in Portland, last Sunday.

About $115 was taken from the Lewis lectures in connection with the Universalist fair. Nothing but praise has been heard of these lectures.

Mr. and Mrs. Hittinger of Boston, who made so many friends in Bethel during their sojourn here last season, are again in town for a stay of some time.

Calvin Bisbee has purchased the Needham house on Main street in Bethel village. Mr. Bisbee will undoubtedly put this property into first class condition. It is said that Davis C. Lovejoy and family will occupy the house later. Mr. Lovejoy has the charge of Mr. Bisbee's grain mill on Main street.

S. I. French is making marked improvements in his residence on Church street. The stable is being completely changed in its front and will soon present a neat and attractive appearance from the street. The house has been considerably changed inside and all the buildings will be painted outside as a part of the extensive work which Mr. French is doing.

GROVER HILL.

Jacob Paine is very sick at R. R. Mayberry's.

Chas. Lyon of Auburn recently called to see friends here.

Edw. and Harry Lyon have returned to Auburn in their automobile.

Mrs. P. Wheeler is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Esther Libby from Massachusetts.

Amelia J. Grover and Mrs. Gust Whitman made calls in this place, Monday morning.

Augustus Grover has returned home from Norway, where he has been at work for a few weeks.

Herbert L. Brown of Portland is passing his annual vacation at the home of his uncle, N. A. Stearns.

Rev. I. A. Paine, who is in town on a visit, preached at the Albany Town House, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Granville Blake and daughter Helen from Portsmouth, N. H., are guests at A. L. Whitman's.

Rev. Mr. Green of Lawrence, Mass., a former pastor, has been here on a short vacation.

Rev. Mr. Berry and little girl of Chicago have been here to visit his sister, Mrs. R. W. Kimball. He preached in the Baptist church one Sabbath. Two other brother preachers from other states have been here also.

Amos King of South Bethel has moved on the place C. C. Bryant purchased of O. F. Twitchell on Riverside. Mr. Bryant is a man of energy and has been continually making improvements since he has lived in town which has been over thirty years. His son Will is a dealer in groceries, fruit and meat here.

WEST SUMNER.

For the Blind.

An entertainment was given at the Universalist church, West Sumner, Saturday evening, Aug. 15, for the benefit of the Maine Association for the Blind. This society, recently formed, desires to found a State manual training school, where the blind can receive a good common school education and also be taught some trade, which will make them self supporting. At present there are twelve hundred blind people in Maine and the nearest school for them is the Perkins Institute, Boston.

Amelia Sanford, a teacher from the Philadelphia Institute for the Blind, having learned the purpose of the Maine Association, offered to tell our people something about the work of that school. The lecture was cordially received and although we were in the busiest part of the haying season every one seemed glad to do something to help.

A good and attentive audience gathered in the church, which had been prettily decorated by the ladies. The lecture was opened by the singing of the hymn, "Jesus of Nazareth passeth by," and was arranged under topics with blackboard illustrations, each topic being followed by an appropriate song.

The whole closed with the hymn, "I shall see what now I see not." Not the least delightful features of the evening were the beautiful solos by Mrs. E. H. Andrews and Rollin Stetson, and Mrs. McLaughlin's exquisitely sympathetic readings of short anecdotes of the blind.

At the close of the lecture the audience adjourned to the basement vestry where photographs and specimens of sloyd work done at the Philadelphia school were displayed. Here, too, the ladies had provided a liberal supply of cake and ice cream, which, sold at ten cents a plate, realized the sum of eight dollars. This amount afterwards increased to ten dollars from other sources.

Has been forwarded to William Lynch of Portland as the first contribution from the people of Maine towards this object, and we are sure that if our blind people could have been with us that evening, the warm interest shown by the West Sumner people would have brought a gleam of brightness even into their darkened lives.

There was a dance here Aug. 13 and a ball game, the 15th.

There was a goodly number out to the G. A. R. reunion here, Aug. 12.

Mrs. Stetson Tuell has two sisters from Lynn, Mass., visiting her.

Jarvis M. Doble, wife and little one visited his brother, E. G. Doble, Aug. 16.

Mrs. Martha Russell from Mechanic Falls is visiting relatives in this, her native town.

Mabel Field from Watertown, Mass., came to visit her aunt, Mrs. E. G. Doble, last Monday.

Mr. Spearin and W. S. Field went to Abbott's pond fishing, last Monday, with fair success.

Mrs. Winfield Ripley from Wakefield, Mass., is the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Geo. E. Pulsifer.

Clark Burke and wife from Hartford visited their aunt, Mrs. Cynthia Bisbee, Wednesday of last week.

A handsome monument and markers were set last week on the lot of C. W. Field in Pleasant Pond cemetery.

Thurlow Hazleton's horse trotted into a wire accidentally left across the road and cut him so badly that it had to be killed.

Mrs. Ella Spaulding from Massachusetts is visiting her sister, Mrs. Lilla Spaulding, widow of the late Moses Spaulding.

A. F. Barrows of South Paris and his nephew's wife, Mrs. Emma J. Pulsifer from Natick, Mass., called on relatives here one day last week.

Rev. H. H. Berry lectured, last Monday evening on catching whales from his own experience at sea. Those who attended said it was very interesting.

Carroll Berry, son of the late Zery Berry, from Massachusetts is visiting relatives in our place and vicinity; also his cousin, Rossie Remick from New Sharon.

Mrs. T. H. Lunt and daughter, Mrs. Henry Ulrich, and Ada D. Heath have been up from Buckfield to visit their parents, G. W. Heath and wife. Ada remained and is visiting old neighbors and friends.

There was a reunion, Aug. 12, of the family of the late William Berry. The children were all present but one daughter, Mrs. Anna Kimball, living in Bethel, who, although improved in health, was unable to come that distance.

Mrs. Belle Ingraham from Paris Hill, her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Nevens, and her brother, Prentiss Cummings of Boston, Mass., rode through our place last Tuesday enroute for Sumner. They were natives of this place and schoolmates of ours.

The social service of song last Sabbath evening proved to be of more than usual interest. Mrs. Thomas was organist. The opening hymn, "Blessed hour of prayer," was followed by a pleasing song by a class of little girls, after which several hymns in which the large number present heartily joined. Mrs. McLaughlin then read in a very acceptable manner a beautiful selection from Whittier, and an inspiring interlude was played upon the organ by Miss Sanford.

More hymns, after which W. S. Field favored us with a little talk upon his personal observations and experiences in Holland, the land of dykes, which was listened to with profound interest by all present. Closed with the familiar hymn "God be with us till we meet again."

There are social services every Sunday evening at 7.30.

BOLSTER'S MILLS.

Charles Walker has gone to Massachusetts to work.

Charles Weston and wife are staying at Horace Barrows'.

Mrs. K. A. Chute is at Edmond Walker's at the present time.

Mrs. Ada King of Paris came over to attend the Douglass reunion and visited relatives a few days.

Rev. A. S. Ladd, D. D., preached at the church last Wednesday evening. A quarterly conference was also held.

The Robinson Family of Conway, N. H., gave a concert at Grange hall on Thursday evening. A very fine musical feast and well attended.

The W. C. T. U. held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Fannie Wright on Thursday afternoon. There was an enjoyable program including a reading by Miss Pierce of Portland. The Loyal Temperance Legion was invited and enjoyed a lawn party. Ice cream and cake were served.

Douglass Reunion.

On Wednesday the 12th inst. was held at Grange hall, Bolster's Mills, the 5th annual reunion and reception of Miss H. E. Douglass and her pupils. The early morning did not promise a very good day but by nine o'clock the sun shone and the day proved fine.

A sample of the pupils of '53 and '59 were present, one from the Home School, Mrs. J. F. King, residing in Paris, and Mrs. H. M. Sylvester, a pupil at Gorham Seminary in '61, now a resident of Otisfield.

Those present from away were: A. S. Caswell, C. H. Weston and Rebecca Lowell of Boston; Mrs. Mary Barrows Ilsey of Portland; Miss B. Edwards of Windham and Mrs. Lucia Jewell Brackett of East North Yarmouth. Harrison furnished eight, Otisfield four and Oxford two. Pleasant greetings were exchanged and a right royal good time was enjoyed by all present. All that seemed lacking was time. The day was all too short. The call to dinner came too soon. The dinner was sumptuous and bountiful and the company did it ample justice.

After dinner the roll of the school was called and twenty responded. Some letters from absent ones were read, also a short poem.

Remarks from the pupils and others, including Prin. McCormick of Bridgton Academy, who at one time attended the Douglass "Home School." A song by Annie R. Weston was finely rendered and an original reading by Mrs. Rebecca Stuart Shagd.

Mary Barrows Ilsey of Portland, Wallace Andrews and Hattie Wardwell Brackett of Oxford were in attendance. Remarks were made by many of the young (p) pupils that touched the heart and brought forth laughter and tears. The closing words of their teachers will be remembered by all.

The vote was taken to meet on the second of Wednesday in August, 1904. The secretary was instructed to appoint a committee to make a programme to be carried out at said meeting, the appointment being as follows: Mrs. Araminta Small Noyes, Mrs. Kate Brackett Stuart and Isaac S. Skillings.

The meeting closed with singing the Doxology, the good-bys were said and the 5th Annual Reunion was a thing of the past.

BRyant's Pond.

Lake Carnival at Bryant's Pond.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the lake carnival held here last Friday evening. All the cottages on the lake were illuminated with colored lights and Japanese lanterns and the points recently purchased by I. A. Hall and Mr. Wiske and where cottages are to be built in the near future, were decorated beautifully, the former showing an immense H in blue lights and the latter W in crimson lights.

Twenty-three boats, all tastefully decorated with many different designs, gathered at the landing near Lakeside cottage where several hundred people were watching from the shore. The band stationed upon an island nearly opposite, played some fine selections, which softened by the distance floated out over the lake with that peculiar charming effect which music ever has on the water.

At a given signal the boats formed in line and headed by D. D. Peverly's little steam launch moved steadily around the lake to the music of the band, throwing up rockets and colored lights on their course. The lake as calm and smooth as a mirror reflected all the beauty upon its surface, causing the scene to appear like a regular fairy land. After making the circuit of the lake the boats were again paraded at the landing and prizes awarded for the best decoration, as follows:—C. M. Wiske, 1st; Mrs. I. A. Hall, 2d; Ray Crockett, 3d prize. Great credit is due to the originators of this beautiful entertainment for the talent and energy, which with the help of an evening fitted for the occasion brought it to such a successful termination.

Rev. Mr. Rose of Newark, N. J., will preach at the Universalist church next Sunday.

There will be a dedication dance at Dudley's new mill building on Tuesday evening of this week.

Frank Trumbull returned to Massachusetts, Sunday. His wife and son will remain a few days longer.

The band boys look fine in their new suits.

Mrs. Andrew Hill is spending this week in Norway.

Fred Hill of Berlin is spending two weeks vacation here.

The Lake carnival, last Friday night, was a grand success.

Mrs. Etta Tilton of Worcester, Mass., is at her brother's, D. A. Cole's.

Mrs. Diantha Edwards is spending a few weeks with Mrs. Mabel Farrington at Locke's Mills.

Eva McAllister is spending a week at Berlin, the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hill.

May Plummer and her friend, Miss Milliken of Portland, are spending a week at Alden Chase's.

H. Alton Bacon with Albert Russ and Frank Sweetser commenced work on Emily Felt's new house.

Louisa Cole is visiting at Alden Chase's. She expects to go into the Old Ladies' Home in the fall.

Rev. Henry A. Brown read his resignation to the Baptist church, last Sunday morning, to take effect, Sept. 13th.

Isaac Lapham and wife of Littlefield and Ruth Ricker of Lawrence, Mass., a sister of Mrs. Lapham, visited at Mrs. Emily Felt's cottage, Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Dora Perham, Genevieve Whitman, Mrs. Clara Hathaway and Arthur Oshman went to Old Orchard, Friday, to join in the Chapman concert, returning on the late train Monday.

Rev. J. J. Lewis will give his famous illustrated story of the Passion Play of 1900 in the Universalist church, Friday evening, Aug. 21. The story will be illustrated with twenty moving pictures and one hundred line light colored views.

Morse—Bartlett.

James Lewis Morse of Livermore Falls and Mrs. Hannah Ripley Bartlett of Knoxville, Tenn., were married at Hillcrest, the residence of F. E. Haines on High street, Aug. 17. Mr. Morse is a well known resident of Livermore Falls and Mrs. Morse will be remembered by many Oxford county people, as she lived for several years before going South, in Buckfield and Paris.

They will take a trip to Lynn and Lowell and then reside at Mr. Morse's home on Wheeler street. They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank all the friends and neighbors who assisted by help and sympathy during our recent bereavement in the sudden death of our husband and father. We thank all for the many and beautiful floral offerings so kindly given.

Mrs. C. H. YEATON AND FAMILY.*

Killed By a Fall.

Charles H. Yeaton residing at Otisfield Gore fell from the scaffolding in a barn at his son-in-law's, H. A. Spiller's, in East Otisfield, and death was immediate. He was a native of Buckfield and had attained the age of 63 years, 10 months. He married Ella J. Brown, a native of Virginia, thirty-one years ago, and moved to the farm he occupied in Otisfield.

He was several times road surveyor and school agent under the former district system. Politically he was a Democrat. He was a member of Frederick Robie Grange, P. of H., and up to within a few years took an active part in the work.

He leaves a widow and seven children: Victor H. of West Poland; Maud H., wife of H. A. Spiller, Otisfield; Stephen O., Peabody, Mass.; Mary P., Della S., Chas. H., Aaron H., Otisfield.

Funeral services were held at Grange hall, Otisfield Gore, Monday, Aug. 17, conducted by Rev. James A. Libby of West Poland. The burial was in the Webster cemetery. An exceedingly large number of beautiful floral pieces were displayed showing in a measure the regard with which he was held in the community where he had resided so long.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

A number of our citizens attended camp meeting at Mechanic Falls last Sunday.

Judge C. F. Whitman is to build an addition to his cottage on the shore of Lake Umbagog.

May C. Thibodeau is spending a couple weeks in Yarmouthville as guest of Grace Robinson.

Dr. Austin Tenney, oculist will be at Elm House, Norway, Tuesday, Aug. 25, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Walter Harlow of Lynn was in town Thursday. He sees many changes in the thirteen years since he was here last.

E. C. Thompson, wife and child accompanied by Frank Starbird and wife of South Paris are at Long Island for a few weeks.

George L. Curtis and family are spending the week in a cottage at Pappoose pond, Waterford. James N. Fawcett is town clerk pro tem.

Mrs. H. T. Stuart returned from a three months' visit to Sanford, Thursday afternoon. Master Donald Welch came with her for a visit.

V. W. Hills and wife, H. J. Bangs and wife, James N. Fawcett and wife, Hortense Gregg and H. L. Plummer spent Sunday at Castle Casco, South Freeport.

The name of the Horne Block has been changed to Abbott Block, the name of the present owner, and the name placed on the block in large and attractive letters.

Maud Dresser of South Albany and Mrs. L. S. Sessions and children of Providence, R. I., who are visiting in Welchville and South Albany, spent Friday in Norway.

Mrs. H. L. Haynes of Bath is in Norway this week. It will be remembered that Mr. Haynes was formerly proprietor of the Norway Hand Laundry. He is now engaged in the laundry business in Bath.

The Sunday excursion to Old Orchard was well patronized. Aug. 19, a large number of our people going. The branch train was loaded to about double capacity, going over in the morning and back in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Kemp of Springfield, Mass., are at Beal's Hotel for their annual vacation. They frequently spend their vacations here, and have many friends and acquaintances. Last year they went further into the Maine woods.

C. B. Cummings and Sons have had the lower tenement in the house corner of Main and Whitcomb streets painted, papered, new windows put in and other wise repaired. It is rumored that this is to be the future home of a well-known couple of our village, who will soon marry.

Mrs. Helen Cherry has some very handsome pansies, daisies and other flowers. These she shares with her friends, and arranges them prettily by putting these flowers with short stems through holes in cardboard just large enough to put the stems through and then have them go into the dish of water underneath. This makes a mound of these lovely blossoms.

Four of the most prominent young men of Rockland lost their lives last Saturday night, because of an explosion on a naphtha launch off Ash Point. One of them, Frank F. Veazie, was well-known in Norway, having spent some time here in the employ of the Eastern Telephone Co. Mr. Veazie, aged 21, son of Mrs. Edward Veazie of Rockland and a student of the University of Maine, class of 1906, was a well-known all-round athlete.

Letter to Fred A. Foster.

NORWAY, ME.

Dear Sir: Most mixed paints are either adulterated or short measure. Devote Lead and Zinc is neither, so it cannot be classed with mixed paints. That's why it takes fewer gallons of Devote to paint a house than it does of mixed paint, and it lasts longer for the same reason.

Ferguson & Thompson's store, Delhi, N. Y., was painted some years ago with thirty-two gallons of mixed paint.

Painted it last spring with Devote Lead and Zinc—thirteen gallons did the work. Devote Lead and Zinc is here or will be here very shortly. Spread the good news.

Yours Truly,

F. W. Devote & Co.,

Maine is Orated Thus.

Henceforth Maine will do little to fill the stomach of the city, but she will ever do much to feed the brain. For years the State has been most conspicuous as a breeder of men. She sends her sons out to every part of the known world, and the world is the better for them. Sometimes she mourns the departure of her children; sometimes she thinks she is being drained of much of her best blood; sometimes she indulges in dreams of what might be her condition if the statesmen, the jurists, the financiers, the men of affairs, who are doing her honor beyond her borders, were to devote their energies to her own glorification. Let her not grieve over this. Let her rather rejoice that it is her lot to make the world her debtor, and as her sons come back to thank and extol her, may she feel repaid for her toils and her anxieties by their gratitude and by their pride in the State of their birth.

Edwards, Bethel; and a number of others. Charles H. Prince of Buckfield, Moses K. Stanton of Porter and Alonzo P. Lamb of Poland also commanded companies.

Jim Beal's Weird Dream.

By HARRY A. PACKARD.

There were two long whistles sounded in the distance and a prolonged broken call from the semaphore from the "express."

Jim Beal was engineer on the only night train out of Westbrook and the distinction of being the "express" was given his train. It was Jim now that was trying in vain to get the long arm down that his train might pass to the station. A delay meant something serious for the one to blame aside from the gentle talk that Jim would be apt to give them.

Suddenly the semaphore dropped but the man in the cab paid no attention, in fact he did not hear it at all. Tired and worn, he closed his eyes for a moment and sleep conquered his body. Instantly there was a change of scenes, his brain became active but only in a dream.

A man with a telegram in his hand hurried towards the engine and thrust a paper into his hand that bore the words, "Run fast to Leeds, full right of way," and was signed by the dispatcher.

He glanced it over and opened the throttle. The big wheels whirled round for a moment and then caught firmly on the rails. Jim opened the throttle wide and at a great deal faster time than is allowed, his train rushed through the yard and past the limits.

The road was on descending grade now, a mile or more of down hill track, lined with bushes on either side and often a sturdy growth of pine or oak.

At the foot of the decline there was a cemetery. Faster and faster the train sped on, Jim shut off the steam on the decline but did not put on the brakes.

When they were nearly opposite the nearest end of the burial ground the engine suddenly turned towards the cemetery. As Jim expressed it, "his hair stood on end" but on a second look he saw that the track itself—yes the very road bed and all had been turned as if a landslide had changed the entire surface of the land, and left the track that he went over every day at right angles to its old position.

The burial ground was there just as it had been, for forty years—nothing very strange about its being there, more strange had it not been there but there was a difference—yes it was not the same one. It was the one from way up in Albany twenty miles distant, the one that they laid Jim's fireman in after that unlucky run on old 400.

Jim could not move hand or foot to stop the train, his nerves were if paralyzed and the train rushed and with graceful curvatures wound in and out among the mounds, often so near the headstones that there was danger of striking and breaking them.

It was at fully twenty-five miles an hour that they bore down to "commit havoc in the last resting place of the dead, and you know that that little cemetery in Albany is for the burial of railway men.

From one of the graves there rose a man dressed in a blue coat and overalls with a fireman's cap—it was Jim Beal's fireman, not a ghastly grinning skeleton but a man of flesh.

The fireman pointed his long finger toward Beal's train so near the track that the finger almost touched him when the cab passed the mound.

Then the man waved his hand as if signaling to one of the graves and immediately another man dressed in railway garb came forth and Jim recognized him as a brakeman, and so on, the finger called men from their sleep until a dozen or more had collected, each one taking his place by a switch or something and there were half a dozen switches scattered over the yard.

All this occurred in the smallest amount of time, less than it took Jim to run half a mile and he was going fast.

The brakeman pointed his finger toward Beal again and then to the sky as if making mysterious sign and in fact they were such. Then quick as a flash the man turned around and pointed the finger in the opposite direction. Another train was what greeted the terrified Jim, a train heavier than his and bearing down on him—on the very track Beal was running on.

Every man pointed to the oncoming train, and uttered weird shouts of joy as the black smoke fairly poured from her stack, nearer she came, the distance between them narrowing to twenty feet, to ten, and to five, and then was a rushing north and every trainman gave a yell of delight as the heavy trains came together with a blinding flash followed by a deafening roar.

"Wake up, wake up," Jim's fireman was shouting. "That semaphore has been down for five minutes and now we are twice that late, what was you, asleep?" I never saw you act so, you must be dreaming, a great idea, to keep the express waiting, you'll get your discharge," he went on in a joking way.

"Perhaps I was 'sleeping' Beal admitted, "but it was only five minutes," and he opened the throttle easily to steam into the station.

That tired feeling is a burden you need not carry. Hood's Sarsaparilla will rid you of it and renew your courage.

Twenty-third Reunion of 23d Regiment.

The annual reunion of the Twenty-third Maine Regiment was held in the hall of Burnside G. A. R. Post, Auburn, Thursday. Dinner was taken at Maine Hotel, and the exercises included a trip to Lake Grove. About seventy members were present at this the twenty-third reunion, among them being:

A. K. Jackson, South Paris.
J. A. Record.
Chandler Swift, Paris.
Geo. W. Cobb, Mechanic Falls.
David Woodsum.
H. Wheeler and wife, Gilead.
J. E. Emmons, Poland.
W. Stone, East Poland.
G. Polney, West Poland.
Almon Crockett, Oxford.
H. B. Barrows, Bethel.

Three full companies and portions of two others went from Oxford county and no regiment in the service was composed more largely of educated men, college graduates, professional men and men of wealth and culture. William Wirt Virgin of Norway was Colonel and Rev. Joseph C. Snow then pastor of Norway Universalist church, chaplain, J. P. Sweat of Brownfield was surgeon, Amos F. Noyes of Norway commanded E. company; H. N. Bolster of South Paris, F. company; Charles H. Prince of Buckfield, Moses K. Stanton of Porter and Alonzo P. Lamb of Poland also commanded companies.

The regiment was mustered into service, Sept. 14, 1862, and served near Washington nine months. Many of the men re-enlisted in other regiments. Officers elected for the next year included, Capt. C. H. Prince, Buckfield, vice-president and Capt. H. N. Bolster, South Paris, secretary.

Miss Alice M. Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn., tells how woman's monthly suffering may be quickly and permanently relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I ran across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,—she had used it with the best results and advised me to try it. I found that it worked wonders with me; I now experience no pain and only had to use a few bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I use it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worn out."

—Miss ALICE M. SMITH, 804 Third Ave., South Minneapolis, Minn., Chairman Executive Committee Minneapolis Study Club.

Beauty and strength in women vanish early in life because of monthly pain or some menstrual irregularity. Many suffer silently and see their best gifts fade away. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women preserve roundness of form and freshness of face because it makes their entire female organism healthy. It carries women safely through the various natural crises and is the safeguard of woman's health.

The truth about this great medicine is told in the letters from women being published in this paper constantly.

Mrs. C. Kleinschrodt, Morrison, Ill., says:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have suffered ever since I was thirteen years of age with my menses. They were irregular and very painful. I doctored a great deal but received no benefit. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and after taking a few bottles of it, I found great relief. Menstruation is now regular and without pain. I am enjoying better health than I have for sometime."

How is it possible for us to make it plainer that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will positively help all sick women? All women are constituted alike, rich and poor, high and low,—all suffer from the same organic troubles. Surely, no one can wish to remain weak and sickly, discouraged with life and no hope for the future, when proof is so unmistakable that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure monthly suffering—all womb and ovarian troubles, and all the ills peculiar to women.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

Hon. M. E. Ingalls of Cincinnati, president of the Big Four R. R., told of Harrison, his native town, and of the famous story of Artemus Ward, who was born in the neighboring town in Oxford county.

How Artemus had been injured by a man in that town and had at first thought of murdering him in retaliation but didn't do it when he thought that Providence had a way in its own time of inflicting punishment on those who had sinned. And in time Artemus said Providence did punish this man for his uncle died and left him a farm in Oxford county.

Metalluc, Pride of the Rangeleys.

Friday afternoon, the expressman called at Henry B. Foster's and left a package, which when inspected proved to be a frog. And such a frog! No little peep frog was he, nor even one over whose head had rolled but a single year. He was a patriarch, an old-timer, the hero of many a froggy concert, and the singer of many a summer night. He unsightly was the largest frog that any one who viewed him had ever seen. His body was seven inches or more, exclusive of the hind legs, and a tape measure about him would indicate close to fifteen inches as circumference.

A card was attached. From it we learned his name to be Metalluc, his sire and dam, Prince of Bemis and Maid of the Mist respectively, and further back were Pangus and Lady of the Lake, Rangeley Boy and Will o' Wisp, also Mountain Ash, Parmacheene Belle, Capt. Chubb, Queen of the Rangeleys, King Paddock, Oozolock, Silver Doctor and Princess of Middle Dam.

Knowing Henry's extreme fondness for the creature Fred Cummings sent it to him from the Bemis frog farm. Henry was greatly pleased and showed it to all his friends. Finally he took it into Cook's barber shop and after considerable pleading Shorty finally succeeded in begging it of Foster.

Shortly then sat down to admire his prize but soon—O, dreadful thought, he began to think of what a terrible number of flies he would have to catch to keep Metalluc in the pink of condition, so he gave him to Carl Harmon, who promised to take good care of him in the laundry. With an abundance of soap and water, to say nothing of starch, Metalluc will doubtless think he is in ed in clover and will grow fatter as the days go by.

Get Your Gun.

The following story comes from Rumford Falls: Thursday evening while Albert Wright was searching for the cows of A. D. Woodrow in the Eri Robinson pasture on the south side of Swain Road, he encountered an old bear and two cubs. The cubs carried up a nearby tree as the bear rose on her haunches and uttered a savage "whoosh!" Mr. Wright not caring for a more intimate acquaintance passed by on the other side.

The first bounty of $5 under the new State law was paid last week to George L. Whitehouse of Lovell for a bear killed in Stoneham.

The only way to make a fair success is for every one interested to take hold and sell the exhibits and then make plans to attend. These exhibitions are of too much value to be lost or neglected.

WEST FRYEBURG.

Interest Not Diminished.

The interest in the religious services held in the schoolhouse in South Chatham, N. H., has not diminished if the good attendance of Aug. 16th is an indication. Rev. L. C. Manchester and Rev. I. W. Beard conducted the service, the audience giving the responsive reading in serious attentiveness.

The singing of the familiar hymns, led by the organ and choir, in which all present seemed to participate was an agreeable feature and the chanting by singers from city choirs gave added effectiveness to the devotional exercises.

Addresses were given by the clergymen. Mr. Beard began by relating that a lawyer and judge, in a city of from eighty to one hundred thousand inhabitants, asserted that he would not believe in a miracle if every man in the city testified to witnessing to it. Upon this testimony of two or three credible witnesses the same judge would in his judicial capacity condemn a criminal to death.

Continuing, Mr. Beard asserted that "the Christian religion is founded on the most stupendous miracle ever recorded, the resurrection of Jesus Christ."

Mr. Manchester at the request of Mr. Beard supplemented the latter's address by relating the victory of the Olympia in the late contest on the Maine coast, ascribing it to the miracle of wireless telegraphy by which communication to a distant part of the fleet was made enabling it to arrive in time to secure the victory. Both speakers emphasized the wonderful advancement of our times in telegraphy, the telephone and photography, especially the X ray that would once have been deemed nothing short of miraculous.

One of the special points of Mr. Manchester's address was the miracle of the character of Jesus Christ. "The miraculous perfection of his character," which the speaker, in eloquent words briefly portrayed in closing his address.

Beautiful flowers covered the table beside the speakers and the decorations upon the wall reflected the genuinely artistic taste of Inez Webb, the young lady who designed and executed them with only a little mechanical aid furnished by her father. The flag of the school house was draped about the organ gracefully. Services next Sunday at 11 a. m. at the same place.

Mrs. Emma Walker returned, Monday, from a few days' visit in Portland.

R. Locke is home at South Chatham, N. H., and three guests are at his home, from Massachusetts.

Emma Towle has been visiting the past week in this section, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Andrews.

Mrs. Nellie Stiles has a physician and his wife from Massachusetts as guests; also a sister from Whitefield, N. H.

Edward Heath of Green Hill, N. H., expects an addition of eight guests to summer company about the last of the week.

Guests at George Hill's in South Chatham, N. H., are Rev. I. W. Beard and Mrs. Beard, Mansur, Allison and Eliza Berd and Mr. and Mrs. John Lund.

There was a thunder storm in this section, Monday, with copious rain, accompanied by high wind. Hail as large as well grown peas fell, covering the ground in places. It was scarcely more than a half hour in duration.

John Perkins of Boston is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hardy. It is to be hoped that the ozone of the mountains and forests will furnish the recuperative element that his health requires and that his genial presence in the neighborhood may be anticipated many summers to come.

During her late visit in Boston and vicinity, Mrs. H. D. E. Hutchins visited in Malden, Mass., Mrs. S. J. Hutchins, who in her eighty-first year retains her lively interest in the many friends by whom she has been affectionately remembered during the years that have elapsed since her residence in this place.

EAST HEBRON.

Don't Want to See the Changes.
Emily Allen visited Mrs. Rogers near her old home, where she had lived eighty years or nearly that length of time, but did not care to ever go to her old home again, or past it, she felt so sad when she thought of seeing the many changes made within the past two years. She should not feel so well as to remember it as she left it.

Chester Bucknam is gaining as fast as can be expected.

Henry Whitman is with his brother Leon in West Hebron.

Mrs. Charles Davis is passing the week with E. Allen and wife.

Charles Hodsdon of West Minot, formerly of this place, is quite sick.

Mrs. Roland of West Auburn passed last Thursday with Mrs. T. L. Rogers.

Melvin Farris is improving in health and is now able to sit up a part of the time.

Oats are rusting. Corn and potatoes have just commenced to follow the example.

Mrs. Nichols was on a load of hay in the field last Friday, and losing her balance fell to the ground, striking on her shoulders and back, injuring her quite badly.

Edith and Grace Bonney passed some days last week in Auburn after their father, Fred Packard, started out West. They will remain here until nearly time for their school to commence in Swampscott, Mass., where their father intends for them to graduate.

EAST FRYEBURG.

Mrs. A. J. McIntire went to West Fryeburg, Monday.

There are ten guests at the Aqua Lee Harnden is working there.

Mrs. B. G. Seavey and Mrs. E. Z. Stanley went to West Fryeburg, last Sunday.

Evelyn Thompson of Fryeburg teaches the fall term of school at the Toll Bridge instead of Myrtle Harnden as was recently stated.

E. D. Abbott and wife of Fryeburg Centre and Mr. and Mrs. Tilly and Mamie Snow of Holyoke, Mass., called on their relatives at East Fryeburg, last Friday.

Married in Stoneham, Mass., Wednesday, Aug. 19, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Warren Sweetser, Susan Buzzell and Albert Frazier, both of Toll Bridge.

Married in Fryeburg, Aug. 12, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Daniel Johnson, Lyman K. Hobbs of Toll Bridge and Mrs. Susan Mariner of Fryeburg, by the Rev. Mr. Pitts of Fryeburg.

EAST STONEHAM.

Age Does Not Discourage.

Among those who are mentioned as smart elderly people, we will not forget our well-known townsman, Ashbel Allen, who at the age of 80 years has performed a goodly amount of labor in the haying field this season, has mowed and done other work in the field. Mr. Allen and wife have reared a large family of children and also two grandsons, who are now able to care for themselves. They are good neighbors, good citizens and Christians, and we rejoice to see them able to take part in the daily affairs of life, and shall be still better pleased when they move into their new house, which is in progress of construction.

Mrs. Allen is also smart for a woman of her age and does more about the house than many young women could or would do, if they could.

Virgil H. Littlefield is on the sick list at present time.

Mrs. Sarah Courson of Rochester, N. H., is visiting her brother, H. M. Parker.

Mrs. Charles McKee has been quite sick the past three weeks but is slowly improving.

Albert Littlefield has been attending the reunion of the 1st, 10th and 29th Regts. the past week, and visiting relatives.

Albion Moody has recently shingled the northwest side of his dwelling and proposes to shingle the other side of the roof as soon as convenient.

Frequent showers, fine growing weather. The farmers are nearly through their haying in this vicinity. The nights have been remarkably cool for the season.

The little cottage which stood just above Charles Bartlett's has been torn down, giving a much better view, up street to those living in the immediate vicinity.

Charles Moore recently moved his household goods from North Waterford to Richmond, where he is expecting to reside. While here he visited relatives and disposed of articles which he did not care to take.

A goodly number of summer boarders are stopping in town. Picnic parties have been quite common visiting Albany Basins and other places of interest. I hear that a party which went to the Basins one day last week got stung by bees or wasps, with which they came in contact.

BYRON.

Mining Gold.

N. B. Jackson is mining near the canyon below Coos bridge. He is finding some nice gold.

About half of the farmers are done haying.

George Brown of Ridgelyville was in town last week.

There was a calico ball at the hall last Saturday evening.

Quite a number will attend the grove meeting this week at Mexico.

There will be a show at the Center schoolhouse next Tuesday evening.

Mrs. John Hodsdon and daughter of Lewiston was in town for a few days last week.

John Toothaker and family of Dixfield are spending a few days at their camp near Garland pond.

WEST LOVELL.

Tossed on an Ox's Horns.

What came near a serious accident happened to Byron, second son of Z. McAllister. He and his oldest brother were in the pasture and he put his arms around a year-old's neck, when he whirled around and an ox on throwing his head at files took the boy, tearing his pants from him and making a slight flesh wound on his abdomen.

Geo. Andrews has a party of eleven at his lower cottage.

Wm. J. Pitman and two sons, Ralph and Merl, were in the place last week.

R. A. LeBaron has finished work for his brother Mandell and will work on the well at the parsonage at the village.

The young people will have an ice cream social at the Library hall on Thursday evening, Aug. 27th. All are cordially invited.

LITTLEFIELD.

No Safety Anywhere.

Grey Dolloff left his horse in front of C. P. Roes' stable unhitched, Sunday. An automobile passed by which frightened the horse. The wagon was overturned and somewhat damaged.

R. E. Martin has finished haying.

J. R. Swain has returned to Bemis.

C. P. Roes went to Gorham, last Saturday.

B. C. Scribner visited in Harrison, last week.

There was a picnic on White Cap, Aug. 18.

Mrs. Fannie Small is visiting at Rumford Center.

Leo Hemingway is cutting pine for B. C. Scribner.

Mrs. Hattie Dolloff visited her sister, Mrs. A. B. Hoyt, last week.

Wallace Lufkin has returned to Chicago. His wife is still at Susy Lufkin's.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perry of Chicago have arrived at J. H. and F. B. Martin's.

Rev. H. C. Munson held a meeting at Red Hill schoolhouse, last Sunday evening.

N. A. Kenerson, who is working at Mechanic Falls, spent Sunday at his home.

WELCHVILLE.

Annual Picnic.

The M. E. Sunday school held their annual picnic, Saturday, in Caldwell's grove. The children had a hayrack ride and all enjoyed it very much.

Bessie Staples is visiting her aunt Emma, in Bath.

Hermion Holmes and family are the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes.

Mrs. Edna Sessions and two children from Providence, R. I., are visiting her sister, Mrs. A. L. Chaplin.

Mrs. Julia Hannaford recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staples. Her brother Eddie returned with her for a week's visit.

UPTON.

Telephone or Railroad.

Is there a prospect of a railroad being built in town before the telephone is started? One man was seen hauling rails for a track and the telephone line seems to have been all the talk.

S. E. Morse has gone to Birch Lodge, guiding.

Upton Grange has recently purchased new furniture.

Ronald Burke has gone to the Lakes where he has work scaling.

Henrietta Douglas of Bethel is visiting her sister, Mrs. Peaslee.
